

Abstract

By rotating a cell-culture container while controlling the temperature and the gaseous atmosphere, cells are cultured under the application of hydrostatic pressure due to centrifugal force, and according to this cell culture, cells are 5 efficiently activated and cultured while inhibiting dedifferentiation.